Tuesday, 30 June 2015
JS Luwansa Hotel, Jakarta

Opening Remarks

- Mr. Jose Ferraris opened the meeting by welcoming all participants of the 11th FP2020 Country Committee meeting. He thanked all participants for their commitments since 2013, shortly after the London Summit in Family Planning 2012. He introduced the new chairperson of BKKBN, Mr. Surya Chandra Surapaty, who was previously a member of the parliament actively involved in Indonesia Forum of Parliamentarians on Population and Development (IFPPD). Mr. Jose Ferraris expressed his pleasure to have Ms. Zohra Balsara, USAID Deputy Director for Health, for the first time as co-chair of the committee.
- Mr. Jose Ferraris acknowledged some progress made by the country committee such as the completion of the development of strategic framework of family planning by the FP Strategy Working Group. It will later be operationalized into family planning program in Indonesia through the renstra of BKKBN and the Ministry of Health.
- Mr. Surya Chandra Surapaty was pleased to chair and participate in the 11th FP2020 Country Committee meeting for the first time since he was inaugurated by the Minister of Health on 26 May 2015. He understood the urgent need to revitalize family planning program in Indonesia which was in line with agenda number 5 of the Jokowi's government: to improve quality of life of Indonesian people in which health as well as family planning and family development play central role. He appreciated the establishment of the Country Committee as inter-sectoral forum where various updates, lesson learned and new initiatives can be shared and discussed, and actions can be taken.
- Mr. Surya Chandra Surapaty went through the meeting agenda, highlighting the topic that would be discussed. It was the study result of the KAP study from the Rights and Empowerment Working Group, to be presented by ibu Ninuk Widyantoro. Several updates would follow the discussion, which were the preparation of the International Conference on Family Planning (ICFP), the progress of the supply chain management model implementation, and track20. He continued by inviting support from all participants for the success of the 4th International Conference on Family Planning which would be held in November 2015 in Nusa Dua.
- Ms. Zohra Balsara thanked everyone for inviting her in the meeting. She noted that USAID, as a global leader in family planning, has strong partners in Indonesia. Despite the graduation of USAID in direct bilateral funding for family planning in 2005, USAID's technical support in family planning program continued along with BKKBN and the Ministry of Health. The USAID looks forward to continuing its support in family planning especially in connecting the family planning program to international best practices and global lesson learned. The USAID will also support BKKBN on ICFP particularly by supporting the local authors presenting their findings at the conference.
- Mr. Jose Ferraris invited all participants to introduce themselves.

- Mr Jose Ferraris noted that on the previous meeting, there was a discussion on the new role of midwives in the universal health care era and there was an interest to raise the topic on a more substantive discussion for the next meeting. He noted the topic is complex, therefore he suggested discussing it in the future meeting when we have a good note that would be useful to reflect on. Whereas for today's meeting, the topic for discussion would be report on the work that had been done by the Rights and Empowerment Working Group, one of the two FP2020 Working Groups, since the study was very recent and would be useful for everyone working in family planning.

Presentation and discussion: the Study Result on Knowledge, Attitude, Practice of Family Planning (Power point presentation attached)

- Ms. Atas Habsjah opened the session by greeting everyone and mentioning that she was happy having Mr Surya Chandra Surapaty as the new chair of BKKBN as he advocated for the new health law in which she and other female activists have been involved for two period of times.
- Ms. Atas Habsjah introduced Ms. Ninuk Widyantoro as a persistent and dedicated psychologist, counsellor, and researcher. She attended ICPD 1994 in Cairo and promoted the new paradigm of ICPD and the shifting to rights-based family planning. Ms Atas Habsjah introduced the study that was going to be presented, entitled "Narrative Report: Knowledge, Attitudes, and Practice on Family Planning in Jakarta, Denpasar, and Mataram, August-November 2014". The study was funded by the Ford Foundation Jakarta and involved Yayasan Pendidikan Kesehatan Perempuan.
- Ms. Ninuk Widyantoro started the presentation by going through the objective, background, and the history of family planning. She elaborated the study findings based on the community population interviewed: decision makers, health providers, religious and community leaders, the community who were married women and men, and adolescents. She highlighted the lessons learned from the study which were: 1) the limited understanding and knowledge of reproductive health and contraception existed at all levels; 2) good motivation to support family planning program from religious leaders; and 3) ability of human resource to educate and empower women on reproductive health was the most important barrier.
- Ms. Ninuk Widyantoro wrapped up her presentation by presenting some recommendations made from the study, which were the needs and importance in: upgrading or refreshing in knowledge and skills of health providers, clear policy division between MOH and BKKBN in reproductive health, coordination among BKKBN, MOH, and related authorities/stakeholder for effective implementation especially at district level.
- Ms. Gita Maya:
 - o Acknowledged the importance of direct counselling, and noted the barrier to counselling not only lack of knowledge but also the limited resources including time constraint to provide counselling service. In the primary health center, family planning counselling usually takes place in the antenatal care, where education can take place not only for women but also men, family, and the community. She also raised issue to actively engage men in FP. Men need to be informed and educated regarding FP.
 - o Raised the topic of the sexually active adolescent. How is it best to discuss family planning with adolescents, highlighting the risk of being sexually active (so they will not practice it) or bringing the issue of family planning in the youth which is still a controversial issue. This was discussed during the national meeting and the agreement was to first teach the youth about the risk in hope they will not practice it.

- Mr. Hendra Gunawan:

- Three common goals of family planning program: increasing CPR, reducing TFR, and reducing unmet needs. Reasons/factors resulting in unmet needs: social cultural barrier and supply chain barrier.
- The roles of private sectors: 1) Communication, Information, and Education (KIE) focused on providers. PT Tunggal, together with IBI, covers 38,500 midwives who connect with them directly; 2) Helping in supply chain management, accessing the users by making use of the midwives networks; 3) Helping the government in funding, private sector currently accounts for approximately 73% of supply
- Despite the challenges, the private sector looks forward to partnering with BKKBN and MOH in overcoming the barriers, particularly through optimizing the roles of private sector previously mentioned.

- Ms. Ninuk Widyantoro:

- In regards with dealing with adolescence, Ms. Ninuk Widyantoro acknowledged that MOH and BKKBN have various guidelines, but implementation in the field is most important.
- She noted that the number of partners in the community is very small, but the quality of partnership is comparable. The community is not merely about numbers, but they are human beings.
- The main findings from the study showed the importance of comprehensive SRHR information, and Ms Ninuk invited the private sector representatives to the field to show them how needed comprehensive SRHR information is, according to actual people.

- Ms. Atas Habsjah noted the importance of male involvement in family planning program as highlighted by Ms Gita Maya. Ms Atas Habsjah also noted the lack of emergency pills provision in the field despite the established guideline by BKKBN. Mr Hendra Gunawan stated that PT Tunggal has been promoting the emergency pills through the midwives.

- Mr. Jose Ferraris thanked Ms. Ninuk Widyantoro for the presentation, Ms. Atas Habsjah for moderating the discussion, and appreciated all members of the Rights and Empowerment Working Group for the hard work on the study. Mr. Jose Ferraris thought there should be a continuing discussion on the follow up of the recommendation from the study result and looked forward to future updates.
